

THE FIRST TRAINING PROGRAM ON IWRM AND STRENGTHENING OF RIVER BASIN COMMITTEES (RBC)

Individual Assignment

Phi Quoc Hao, MoNRE, Vietnam

IWRM awareness

IWRM is a process has been recognized as one of the best approaches towards sustainable and effective water resources management and it is a process may be accepted around the world but its concepts and basic principles must need to be addressed to everyone for adoption.

IWRM is one of the advantage processes which need apply sector wide approach and participatory at all level to meet and harmonize multi demand and maintain the sustainable of water resources as it was. IWRM greatly contribute to wealthy of country and society.

Application IWRM in participant's country

The application way of IWRM in my office after this course is to apply sector-wide approach method to develop master plan of water resources protection, sustainable development at basin level and inter basin level.

The master plan will be developed with public's participation and supervisory of expert from line agency as well as water resource expert.

Promoting the participation of civil society in identifying needs and issues, designing solutions, and establishing mechanisms for monitoring and dispute resolution and developing tools, including guidelines for the design and implementation of successful participatory processes in water sector activities is the advantage and result of effective IWRM in country and region.

Active involve in developing action plan and an outline or roadmap to put IWRM into practice for State water resource management plan for nation-wide.

Introducing IWRM concept to our colleagues, water resources manager and officer who partly direct related to water resources management

Evaluation and conclusion

The Regional Training Program on IWRM and Strengthening of River Basin Committees has gained its aims to strengthen the capacity of IWRM to participant on putting concepts into IWRM practice.

Equip the water-related professionals in the region (Thailand, Japan, Philippine...) to have a good understanding of the IWRM concepts;

Enable me to translate the IWRM concepts into the planning process as well as disseminate IWRM concepts to target groups.

The course can help me more confident to make individual strategies or action plans for organizational level