

Individual assessments of the training workshop

On the final morning of the workshop, participants were asked to submit a personal assessment of the event.

They were asked to discuss what they had learned during the workshop, and how this learning might be applied in their own personal work situations.

These personal assessments are presented in the following pages.