

Questionnaire II (Country Report II) – For Session 1

~ Events or cases of troubles related to water allocation in participants' countries
(Except for drought)

1. Please describe the legal and institutional framework of water allocation in your country simply.
I.e. water-related law, government organizations responsible for water resources planning, development or management

(Country Name: INDONESIA)

The water law (Indonesian Law no 7 year 2004, on Water Resources) stipulates Government is responsible for water resources management. The Government shall establish Water Council which shall discuss the allocation of water among uses and users. The Water Council will provide the recommendation to the Governor to decide the allocation. However, the Government Regulation to establish the Water Council is under process for establishment.

The current process is still following the old Water Law. Instead of Water Council, Water Resources Management Committee takes the role in water allocation. However, there is no guidance on the allocation process so far.

Water Resources planning, development, and management in 11 river basins/regions are the responsibility of River Basin Organizations, the remainders (around 90 river regions) are under the responsibility of Water Resources Service of each Province. There are two Public Corporations in Indonesia manage the water resources of two River Regions.

2. Please describe events or cases of troubles related to water allocation. For example,
- Water conflicts among different water uses in a river basin
 - Water conflicts among same water uses, especially agriculture (e.g. Water User Associations), in a river basin
 - Water conflicts between upstream users and downstream users
 - Water conflicts between new water user and existed water users
 - Troubles which was resulted from water transfer
 - Troubles derived from increasing water demand

The number of letters and characters are not limited. Also, specific description is appreciated. If necessary, please attach maps.
