(Basically, the sponsorship on international travel cost by organizer is between international airports of both countries)

It is a condition of participation in NARBO training events that each participant (or the participants' employer) contributes a minimum of US$200 towards to registration fee. The organizer has limited funds for sponsorship of participants travel and accommodation costs. It is gratitude that the participants bear all cost by participants own at the self-help/ownership point of view, as general rule.

For sharing information, all trainees are sought to write the report based on request from co-organizer and/or NARBO secretariats before participation of training.
