OECD Principles on Water Governance

- Based on thorough evidence
 - 12 OECD studies (2010-15)
- Resulting from a bottom-up, multi-stakeholder process
 - Facilitated through the OECD Water Governance Initiative (130+ network members)
- Vetted and recognized internally and externally
 - Endorsed during the 2015 OECD Ministerial Council Meeting
 - Included in the 2016 OECD Council Recommendation on Water (OECD Act)
 - Noted in the G20 Agriculture Ministers' Action Plan 2017
 - Used by NGOs, academics, to assess water governance systems

Supporting the implementation of OECD Principles on Water Governance

- ✓ Self-assessment to be tailored to contexts & places
- ✓ To foster multi-stakeholder dialogue for better policies
- ✓ Voluntary participation
- ✓ To be used by any city, basin, region or country

- ✓ Evidence of success at different levels related to each OECD Principle
- ✓ Results achieved and lessons learned during policy and reform processes
- ✓ To be used to foster peer-to-peer dialogue and bench-learning across cities, basins and countries
